FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wagonmasters to “Spruce Up” Fritz Saloon at Old Cowtown Museum

(Sedgwick County, Kansas) –The Wichita Wagonmasters will be at Old Cowtown Museum on Saturday, June 29, from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. to scrape, caulk and paint the Fritz Snitzler’s Saloon at Old Cowtown Museum. The Wagonmasters have adopted the Fritz Snitzler’s Saloon and have agreed to maintain the building over time.

“We (Wagonmasters) have decided to adopt the saloon at Old Cowtown Museum as part of Commissioner Carolyn McGinn’s campaign to “Spruce Up the Town,” said County Commissioner Tim Norton.

“This community museum is something we should all take pride in. I encourage other groups and businesses to adopt a building and continue to donate time for the upkeep. Old Cowtown Museum is a great attraction for our community,” Norton said.

To find out how your group or business can be involved in the “Spruce Up the Town” effort, contact Kristi Zukovich at 660-9370.
